

This week in brief

FRIDAY, Feb. 25

Hopkinson Smith will be onstage at Akbank Sanat. Smith graduated from Harvard with Honours in Music in 1972. He was involved in numerous chamber projects.

SATURDAY, Feb. 26

The latest exhibition at the Borusan Art Center, entitled "Considering the Circumstance: The Second Show," raises questions about Turkey's ever-changing social and cultural situations.

SUNDAY, Feb. 27

If Istanbul AFM International Independent Film Festival, Turkey's first festival dedicated to independent cinema, closing party will be at Babylon.

MONDAY, Feb. 28

Independent art space Edison reveals new works from various artists. It is possible to see or buy the works and prints of artists such as, C.M.K, Ali K., Ali Kabas, Alican Tezer, Asli Saktanber.

TUESDAY, March 1

Gallery Apel is hosting a solo exhibition by Bayram Candan titled "Urgency." "I call these things 'works that embody a feeling of urgency,'" said Candan. The artist has tried to freeze in sculpture the "single moment" of the objects.

WEDNESDAY, March 2

The Elgiz Museum Istanbul is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year with a series of organizations and publications. The anniversary program is starting with a new selection from the Elgiz Collection entitled "Unbounded."

THURSDAY, March 3

Istanbul's art scene is preparing for a new gallery at Siraselviler. The Empire Project's inaugural exhibition features the works of Dutch artist phenom Jasper de Beijer.